

HAPPILY

Celebrated Was the Fortieth Anniversary of Division 1, A. O. H.

Honored by Presence of State and County Presidents and Ladies.

Eloquent Addresses, Irish Songs and Music, Lunch and Dancing.

OLD TIMES WERE RECALLED

Last Tuesday was a red letter day for the Hibernians of the Falls Cities, for it marked the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the organization of Division 1. Much enthusiasm marked the arrival of State President P. J. Welsh, County President William J. Connelly, Ladies' Auxiliary and delegations from the other local divisions, who packed Falls City Hall to the doors.

During its long existence Division 1 has engaged in many undertakings and activities along the lines of progress and has established a record to be proud of. Despite the ravages of the Grim Reaper its membership has continued true to the principles of the order, friendship, unity and Christian charity, and today stands as strong as ever in its history, with an encouraging outlook for the future.

County President Connelly said he came with no intention of delivering an address, but his words stirred his hearers to enthusiasm. With candor and sincerity he declared that the County Board and the membership were never more united. He urged more frequent social meetings, where the evenings may be passed pleasantly and profitably, and commended the creditable work of Divisions 3 and 4 and the activities of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Master Robert Seymour, the blind boy pianist, made the hit of the evening when he sang "The Heart of the Matter" and each time he went to the piano he evoked rounds of applause and was forced to respond to the hearty encores. Tim Lyons, who is the oldest member of the order in Louisville and the only living charter member of Division 1, was next called upon and made what he said was his first speech.

Recognizing the Ladies' Auxiliary as the better part of the Ancient Order, Chairman Tarry called upon Mrs. Dan Dougherty and Miss Mary Corcoran, who tendered the congratulations of the officers and members of the Louisville auxiliary.

James Barry, introduced as the kofather of Hibernians and Martin J. Cusick as their grandfather, cited numerous instances of the benefits derived from membership. They also urged quarterly general meetings for reunion and exchange of views and a special interest in the history of the order now being written. William M. Higgins and Thomas Walsh were the last speakers, the latter speaking with his usual vim and declaring that the charity that has been quietly and unostentatiously dispensed by the local divisions of the Ancient Order was beyond a doubt among the pioneer members present were noted Daniel McCarthy, now Vice President, Thomas Keenan, David O'Connell, James Moore, Thomas Cleary, Thomas Shelley and several whose names escaped the writer.

The evening's entertainment concluded with a dainty luncheon of ice cream, cakes, sandwiches, etc., with light refreshments and Tarry's Havanna, which were served in abundance. For a while there was dancing to the lively strains of the Kilkenny orchestra. Upon all sides were heard expressions of good will

MASS IN HALL.

Rev. Father Thomas A. York, pastor of St. Paul's church, which was badly damaged by fire on Tuesday of last week, announced at the masses for his parish in St. Philip Nerli's church on Sunday that work of raising funds for the erection of a new building to take the place of the old structure at Jackson and Kentucky streets will be started at once. It was also announced that, until further notice St. Paul's congregation will hear mass at 6, 7 and 8:30 o'clock in St. Paul's Hall, adjoining the burned church. An altar will be erected and arrangements made to accommodate the homeless congregation until their church is restored. For Father York there is widespread sympathy, and already a number of subscriptions have been offered to help lighten the heavy burden resulting from the fire.

ORPHAN LINDEN SHOWER.

Sister Mary Martha and the Sisters of Charity of Nazareth in charge of St. Thomas' Orphanage on the Bardstown and Newburg roads, extend a cordial invitation to their friends, as well as to the friends of the orphan boys, to be present at the fourth annual linen shower and entertainment to be given on Thanksgiving day, November 27. The entertainment will follow the business programme, beginning about 3 o'clock. Patrons and friends of the parentless little fellows may easily reach the orphanage by taking the East Jefferson street cars to Carter avenue and walking but a short distance. Anything in the line of boys' underwear, ready-made waist or material for same, stockings, handkerchiefs, neckties, caps, sweaters and crash for towels will be most acceptable.

MOURN HIS DEATH.

The funeral of James F. Gardner, aged seventy and for twelve years a Councilman from the Ninth ward, was held Saturday morning from the Sacred Heart church, attended by many sorrowing relatives and friends. A native of Ireland, James Gardner came to Louisville a young man, and by thrift and integrity became widely known in business circles. Always a staunch Democrat, he was for years active in politics and a strong advocate of Louisville's advancement. Stricken with rheumatism, he was years ago compelled to relinquish his business activities, and for the past eight months he was unable to leave his home at 2610 Margaret street. Surviving are his widow, who was formerly Mrs. Margaret Garvey; three sons, Thomas J., John E. and William T. Gardner, the latter being Captain of the No. 19 Engine Company, and five daughters, Mrs. Andrew Meagher, Mrs. Thomas O'Mara and Misses Nellie, Eleanor and Catherine Gardner.

GIFT FOR FALK.

Charles Falk, one of the most widely known and popular salesmen in Louisville, received the surprise of his life Monday night at the meeting of the local Salesmen's Union, of which he is now the oldest member. For years Mr. Falk has been an indefatigable worker for this organization, having served in every position within its gift. When the regular routine had been completed the members remained quiet while a silver pitcher and drinking set were brought out and presented to Mr. Falk as a testimonial for his long and faithful services and membership. All present enjoyed the presentation, which so overcame him that he was unable to utter hardly a word in making his acknowledgment.

TURKEYS AND PRIZES.

A euchre and lotto for the benefit of St. Ann's church, of which the Rev. Father John Hill is pastor, will be given at the Catholic Woman's Club, 615 West Walnut street, next Tuesday afternoon and evening. The games will be called at 2:30 and 8 o'clock, and to this really enjoyable entertainment the public is invited. Many handsome prizes have been secured and a number of fine young turkeys will be disposed of.

SISTERS WIN LIBEL SUIT.

Unopposed Protestant jurors decided in just two minutes that the Journal of Silverton, Oregon, was guilty of libel. The suit, it will be recalled, was brought by the Benedictine Sisters of St. Angel, Oregon. A woman named Lascian had entered the convent as a novice, but in a short time made her "escape." To a minister of the town she told a story that fairly made the good man's hair stand on end. The Journal was promptly called in and the juicy morsel was printed with flaming headlines and spread broadcast. Prominent citizens of the place at once urged the Sisters to bring suit, and this was finally done. When it came to selecting a jury, Catholics and Catholic sympathizers were rigidly excluded. From start to finish the defense was of the weakest kind and really amounted to nothing. The verdict was as stated above. It was the only verdict possible for a jury of unopposed gentlemen. The Sisters sued for $50,000; but they will probably be entirely satisfied with Rooseveltian damages. The defense was so flimsy that the jury had to spend a lot of poor paper in its exploitation. Were suit brought against the Aurora, much heap it probably would crawl behind the Journal and insist that in printing the story it was inspired by the highest motives and had no means of knowing that the story was un-

Among others who attended were members of the diplomatic corps, many of the Knights of Malta and a large sprinkling of the aristocracy of Rome. A large number of American sailors stood in line in the halls leading to the chapel to witness the passage of the Pontiff, who was escorted by twenty-five Cardinals. Following in the procession were Patriarchs, Archbishops, Bishops, the members of the congregations and the heads of religious orders. Contingents of the various guards added to the picturesqueness of the scene. The Sistine choir, conducted by Father Lorenzo Perosi, the noted composer, furnished magnificent music. The Pope sat in the throne, afterward returning to his apartments in his chair. Cardinal Merry del Val, the Papal Secretary of State, celebrated Pontifical mass and imparted the benediction.

Favored by a spring-like day the American sailors started out early in the morning on excursions to the Alban Hills, the Appian Way and Tivoli. Some went to Ostia to inspect the ruins of the seaport of ancient Rome.

POPE PIUS

Receives the Officers and Men of the United States Fleet.

Expresses Satisfaction at Being Able to Greet American Sailors.

Battleship Officers Attend Coronation Anniversary Ceremonies.

AMERICANS RECEIVE BLESSING

The Associated Press brings news that Pope Pius X. last Saturday received at the Vatican the officers and bluejackets of the United States warships now visiting European ports. The officers were in civilian clothes, as their visit to the Pope was in their private capacity. The sailors were in uniform. The party was conducted by Monsignor Thomas F. Kennedy, rector of the American College in Rome; Chaplain William H. I. Reaney, of the battleship Utah, and Chaplain Curtis H. Dickins, of the battleship Florida. Rear Admiral Charles J. Badger, Cameron McR. Winslow and Frank E. Beatty, and Capt. William J. Maxwell were introduced by Monsignor Kennedy. As they proceeded into the Pope's private library the Swiss and Noble Guards rendered military honors. The Pope was cordial and cheerful. He expressed briefly his great satisfaction at being able to greet the American sailors. He requested the officers to be seated next to his chair, and after a lengthy conversation proceeded in company with the three Rear Admirals and the Captain to the adjoining hall, where he spoke a few words to each of the officers gathered there. He then gave the apostolic benediction to the officers and sailors. After the Papal audience the Rear Admirals and other officers were received by Cardinal Merry del Val, Papal Secretary of State. On Sunday the officers of the American battleships were present at the imposing and brilliant ceremony in the Sistine chapel in connection with the anniversary of the coronation of Pops Pius X. Among those who occupied seats in the special tribune were Rear Admiral Cameron McR. Winslow and

Gov. McDermott says: "Tuberculosis destroys one person out of every six dying in Kentucky. We should use every effort to stay that terrible result. The education of the people on this subject is of vital importance. We must try to save ourselves, our kindred and our neighbors from this terrible affliction. Almost every home has at some time been in sorrow and gloom by the agony and death of some beloved one that was an unnecessary victim of this dreadful disease. Let us all, by the love we bear our beloved and in the spirit of charity to our neighbor, make a zealous, united effort to free our State from this awful scourge."

TRINITY COUNCIL.

There was a fine attendance Monday night when President Vic Ecker opened Trinity Council meeting, which was spirited and interesting. All committees made encouraging reports, the announcement that the outlook for another large membership class was encouraging being borne out by the number of applications filed. The Literary Committee reported all preparations made for the "mock trial" Monday night, when there will be "much doing." The fact that John Cuniffe is the plaintiff in a civil suit is in itself sufficient assurance that there will be nothing overlooked in the comedy line. Attorney Benedict Elder, delivered an eloquent and instructive address on the "Bill of Rights," being frequently interrupted by applause. Upon his conclusion Mr. Elder received a rising vote of thanks, all expressing the wish to hear him soon again. The Social Club announced their next dance for Thanksgiving night, when they expect to add new laurels as entertainers of the younger set.

GILBERT—M'KEE.

Amid a hower of beautiful plants and flowers and in the presence of a number of prominent society people of the county and from Lexington, Lawrenceburg, Louisville and elsewhere, Miss Agnes Mornay McKee and Dr. John Whittington Gilbert were married at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening at "Forest Home," the residence of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. John R. McKee, on the Frankfort turnpike, five miles north of Versailles. The ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Father W. J. Rolfe, of St. Leo's church. The bride's sister, Mrs. Vernon Forman, of Lexington, was her matron of honor; George Gilbert, of Lawrenceburg, brother of the groom, was his best man, and little Miss Agnes Forman was flower girl. The wedding was followed by a reception at which Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert left for a trip. Among the guests from Louisville at the wedding were Lieut. Gov. and Mrs. E. J. McDermott, Mr. and Mrs. Heim Bruce, Helm Bruce, Jr., Miss Louise Bruce, Misses Phoebe and Eleanor Harris.

JUDGE SPALDING DEAD.

Death came suddenly last Friday morning to Judge J. H. Spalding, aged eighty, of Morganfield, one of the most prominent Kentuckians in his section of the State. Judge Spalding practiced law before the Union county bar for over fifty-five years, having entered the law office of the late Judge Houston many years ago. He was educated by the Jesuits and had served many times as State Senator, member of the Kentucky House of Representatives and County Judge. He was also a member of the Constitutional Convention, and was known as the "father of the State Railroad Commission," of which he was the first member. His aged wife, who before her marriage was Miss Sue Johnson, survives him. He is also survived by one son and three daughters, two of whom are nuns, one being at Nazareth. His sons, Judge Jack Spalding, of Atlanta, and Judge Spalding, of Louisville, were with him when he died, and his daughter, Mrs. Milton Young, of Lexington, arrived Saturday. Judge Spalding was a cousin of Archbishop Spalding, of Peoria.

NEWPORT.

A class of fifty candidates received the major degree of the Knights of Columbus last Sunday at the new St. Stephen's Hall, on Washington avenue. This is the highest honor of Knighthood, and conferred for the first time in Newport. The candidates were from nearly every county in Kentucky and Indiana. The second degree was conferred by Judge Edward Tracy and associate, of Covington, and the third by J. Madison Walsh and staff of Indiana. The guests and members were conveyed to the Allamont Hotel, Fort Thomas, for dinner. Toasts were responded to by Lieut. Gov. Edward J. McDermott, of Louisville; John Heuver, District Deputy, and members of Newport and Covington councils.

HURT BY FALL.

Pat Kenehan, a well known night watchman, was painfully hurt at an early hour last Saturday morning. While making his rounds he fell into an open cellar on Third street, the grating of which had been left open by firemen who were in the basement in response to an alarm from Third and Market. Kenehan sustained a bad scalp wound and was removed to the City Hospital in the police ambulance. Fortunately his injuries were not serious and he was soon able to leave the hospital.

TUBERCULOSIS SUNDAY.

Acting Governor Edward J. McDermott last Saturday issued a proclamation designating Sunday, December 7, as Tuberculosis Sunday. Hope is expressed that many good clergymen of all churches will preach a sermon on this vital topic that day. In his proclamation

WE DO PRINTING

BULL MOOSE

Abandon Election Contest in Last Despairing Wall From Davies.

Fund Raised Consisted Mainly of Promises of Contributions.

Ex-Chief Hanger Announces His Withdrawal From Moose Ranks.

JACOBS DESERVES INDORSEMENT

The local Bull Moose party gave its last fluttering gasp on Wednesday evening, when Attorney W. W. Davies issued a statement saying that the proposed contest of the recent election had been abandoned, but he couldn't resist the temptation to take a few nasty flings at the public in general because, as he stated, all of the wealthy were on the Democratic side on account of the merger, and enough money to properly contest the election could not be raised from the working men comprising the Progressive party. Mr. Davies should have gone farther and explained that only $700 of the fund raised was in cash and the other $2,800 in promises, which, judging from the caliber of the men comprising the rank and file of the Bull Moosers, was not a good promissory asset. Mr. Davies' flattering description of his allies is not shared in by the general public, because honest workers and good citizens, as styled by him, do not attempt to outstrake their fellow citizens on account of their religious creed or belief, this being the sum and substance of the whole Bull Moose campaign, and now in the cold gray dawn of the morning Mr. Davies owes an apology to his many former friends and admirers for his allegiance and support of the camp of hictory. In all probability the requiem services over the defunct Bull Moose corpse will be held at the Junior Order hall this coming week, with tearful addresses by Messrs. Reno, Reunesen, Hess and other close relatives of the deceased, followed by a solo from Mr. Armstrong, entitled "Why I Felt From Town to Town."

In connection with the threatening anonymous letters sent to female members of the Families of Police Hanger, a telephone conversation with a representative of the Kentucky Irish American, stated that he had no part in these supposed tactics of the Moosers, and furthermore had dropped all connection with the Progressive party since election day, not even being present at the meeting last Sunday when the contest was discussed, and was not aware what had transpired at that meeting. Col. Hanger also stated that he disapproved of such despicable methods and that in his support of Axton had only done everything consistent with legitimate political campaigning. On account of the scarcity of funds in the Progressive treasury in the recent campaign, it is rumored that some of the leaders are casting about for a man of considerable means to be their standard-bearer in the Congressional race next year, and to that end it is rumored they try to enlist Col. P. H. Callahan in their cause. His prominence in the farewell banquet to Duncan Clark, in addition to his championing of the Pflinz cause, has won him the support of some of the leaders, who think that his candidacy may wear away votes from the present solid Democratic strength.

It is to be hoped, and this sentiment is voiced by many Democrats, that those who are after the scalp of William Jacobs as Workhouse Superintendent can be dissuaded from their present course, principally because of the slogan of the party in the campaign, which was re-election as an indorsement of the splendid administration of Mayor Hendriod, and to which Jacobs contributed no small part, his conduct of the Workhouse being indorsed by many grand juries and reputable authorities. Mr. Jacobs as labor leader and Democrat stands high in the community, and Mayor Buschemeyer without any hesitancy can make an early stand for good government by announcing his reappointment.

In a personal visit to the Kentucky Irish American office, Senators-elect Charles H. Knight and Samuel Robertson expressed their thanks for the support given the Democratic ticket by this paper and the editors who, along with their other constituents, look for reward in the splendid service at Frankfort this coming session that these two gentlemen are sure to accomplish in behalf of Louisville, Jefferson county and the State at large.

FINE SEMINARY SITE.

The new Kenrick Seminary in St. Louis, the cornerstone of which will be laid Thanksgiving day, will occupy what was heretofore known as the Drummond estate on LaCade road and will hereafter be known as Glennon Park. It comprises 373 acres. The estimated cost of the new seminary is $600,000, and of this Archbishop Glennon and the priests of the archdiocese will contribute about $50,000, and their congregations about $100,000 at Christmas.

DUTY.

It's now Mayor Buchanan's duty to give his hearty support. Never were Louisville's prospects brighter, and it should be the sole endeavor to make the city larger and better and, if possible, eclipse the splendid administration of ex-Mayor Head.

WITHOUT SCRUPLES.

Christian workmen, American workmen, should not longer shut their eyes to the dangers that lurk behind Socialism. Fred D. Warren, who edits the Appeal to Reason, comes out boldly and proclaims the real Socialist doctrine. Hear him: "I believe in the confiscation of the productive property of this nation by the working class. I do not believe in confiscating it by piecemeal. That would be foolish and illegal. The plan I favor is that the working class should first capture the political powers of the State and nation and then the job can be done without danger of getting cracked skulls and prison sentences."

I have no conscientious scruples against the use of any method, direct or indirect, that will secure to the working class possession of the machinery of production. But I think entirely too much of my head to risk butting it against a stone wall in the shape of a policeman's club wielded by a man who takes his orders from capitalist politicians."

Here you have the Socialist demand, which calls for all wealth created. Think what condition would exist, such revolution, which would destroy both labor and capital and turn our country backward. The real and true workman should shun and abhor Socialism and its dangers.

JUSTICE WHITE'S WARNING.

The warning words of the Hon. Edward D. White, Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, have received widespread attention and will doubtless be productive of beneficent results. Chief Justice White insists that the American people must frown down the attempt which is growing in the land to attack the principles of the Government. The very foundation of our free institutions was the belief not in the march of a triumphant democracy, not in the march of popular feeling and popular conduct unrestrained, but that men could restrain themselves, that great principles could be written into our national life which could steer and guide and restrain and hold us and lead us on free from anarchy, full of liberty, with life and property and everything that blesses mankind saved and secured. Look around in this great land today. Where is there a country like this? The world has never seen the equal of it, and the world will never see its endurance if the American people forget the foundation principles of their free institutions because of what they imagine to be an evil here and an evil there and seek to pull down the pillars of the temple in order that they may destroy what they suppose to be a rat within the house. Let us frown down this attempt which is growing in the land. Many thoughtless persons today suppose that everything that is wrong is wrong in the institutions, when without the institutions there would be no right and everything wrong.

These are the utterances of a statesman and patriot, a Catholic who loves his God and his country, and are such that all fair-minded Americans can embrace with benefit to themselves and the Government that deserves our earnest and undivided support.

YOUTH AND CRIME.

Parents, educators, social workers, the courts—all are waking up to the fact that a very serious proportion of the crime in our large cities is committed by youths and we are forced to the conclusion that our social and educative machinery are woefully defective, says the Catholic Advance. Our children from twelve to twenty attending our public schools especially in large cities are generally without guidance or correction either at home or at school. Parents depend upon the schools for necessary correction and the schools leave the matter in the hands of the parents and the streets are not conducive to propriety. It would appear from the published reports of crime of a serious and malicious character that the high schools supply the greater proportion of culprits. In Oklahoma City last June two boys, sixteen and twenty, were arrested for attempting to blow up a bank at Yukon with dynamite which they manufactured in the High School laboratory, and they had a suitcase filled with "stuff" enough to blow up the town. An examination into the condition of the schools in Philadelphia by a special commission revealed a most appalling state of immorality and only recently reports from Kansas City gave a condition of rottenness among the children that has brought shame and sorrow to many respectable families and death to one of them. Why close our eyes to the facts? Crime is ever on the increase among our religiously neglected children; so much so that in many cities a special court has been found necessary to deal with children exclusively. Reformatories have to be built everywhere and they are nearly always overcrowded. What efforts have been made to correct this awful condition? None, and none can be made where the element of religion is excluded. Athletics will not reach the seat of the depravity, nor will psychology, nor hygiene, nor individual drinking cups, nor dancing lessons, nor dental examinations, nor will the recent fad which the devil is devising for the more efficient spreading of spiritual evils, namely eugenics. Our public schools are doing everything for the education of the animal in man and absolutely nothing for the spiritual side. The system is pagan and its results are stirring up the people to protest against its fatal defects.

HANDS ACROSS THE SEA.

England has again given an exhibition of its love for America and Americans by barring all American Rhodes school scholars from competition in athletic games, simply because some of our boys captured all the prizes in a recent exhibition.

Congressman Martin B. Madden, of Chicago, has yet much to learn. Addressing one of the Chicago clubs last Saturday the Windy City Congressman attacked President Wilson, saying "the administration" is run by Democrats from the South who have had no business experience, because there is no business in the South." Before going further Martin should consult Chicago's leading merchant and manufacturers, who are largely dependent upon the South and find their business men and markets, without which his city would suffer terrible loss. Martin should read the Southern revenue statistics and become enlightened.

Is the memory of the "Manchester Martyrs" being permitted to sink into oblivion? asks one of our exchanges. We hope not, and still we fall to note any present enthusiasm for the observance of the day on which they met their cruel death at the behest of the British Government. November 23 is the date. The names of Allen, Larkin and O'Brien should not be forgotten.

Last Saturday in the Police Court eleven barrels of sweet potatoes were ordered destroyed as unfit for food. Commission merchants who hold foodstuffs until they become tainted rather than sell them for reasonable prices should lose their license from the city. Already the poor have suffered too much from this class.

Among the resolutions adopted by the American Federation of Labor, now in session at Seattle, Wash., was one declaring that "nothing could be more injurious to the labor movement than the injection of sectarian religious matters." The convention also gave the Socialists another black eye, defeating them by a vote of 193 to 15.

Mouey certainly had wings in the Progressive campaign here. Thirty-five thousand dollars was some flight in such a short time. Louisville Progressives died hard, but they died.

GAYETY THEATER.

For Thanksgiving week Col. Taylor has announced a drama that will appeal especially to holiday theatergoers. "Freckles" has proven to be a popular attraction everywhere and should draw well here. The story of the nameless wife of "Lumberlost Swamp" was dramatized from Gene Stratton-Porter's novel, and a well balanced cast and complete production are promised.

Miss Caroline C. Hammer and Joseph W. Piero, both popular in New Albany Catholic circles, were united in marriage Wednesday morning at Holy Trinity church, Rev. Father Curran performing the ceremony. The ceremony was witnessed by many friends of the bride and groom, who showered them with congratulations.

Last week Edward Smith and bride entertained a house party at their home at St. Mary's-of-the-Knobs. Their guests were the members of their bridal party on November 5, and included Mesdames Mary Schenck and Mary O'Hern, Miss Blanche Compton, Mr. and Mrs. M. Coughlan, Messrs Thomas Camfield and J. H. Berry.

Thanksgiving morning there will be a pretty wedding at St. Leo's church in Highland Park, when Emmet Byrne will lead to the altar Miss Bernice Goff, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Goff. The marriage ceremony will be performed by the pastor, Rev. Father Fitzgerald, who will also celebrate the nuptial mass. A large gathering of friends of the worthy couple will witness the ceremony.

This marriage of Miss Marie Holzknecht and Charles G. Mazzoni will take place November 26 at 8 o'clock in the morning at the Church of the Holy Name. The Rev. Father O'Connor will officiate at the nuptial mass and perform the ceremony. Miss Treasa Holzknecht will be the sister's maid of honor and Henry J. Mazzoni will be the best man. Following a wedding breakfast the happy couple will go East on their wedding trip.

Wednesday morning the marriage of Miss Agnes Naomi Schoen and Sylvester J. Ford was solemnized with a nuptial mass at St. Louis Bertrand's church, the Rev. Father Liszter performing the ceremony, which was witnessed by a large gathering of friends of the bride and groom. Miss Dora Schoen, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Dorothy Norton, the bridesmaid. Thomas Ford was his brother's best man, with Messrs. Herman Schoen, Alex. Veensman, Edgar Schoen and Ray Schuman acting as groomsmen. Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride. The best wishes of a legion of friends follow the worthy couple into their new life.

Those who wish to enjoy a real treat on Thanksgiving day should visit St. Leo's Hall in Highland Park, where the Carnation Club will have an oyster supper and lotto party, with games in the afternoon and evening. The admission will be only ten cents, which includes the oyster supper. For the games there will be many handsome prizes and some excitement is assured. The club extends a general invitation to the public and hopes to provide a happy Thanksgiving for all who attend.

The Forty Hours' devotions, the last of the ecclesiastical year in this city, will open with impressive ceremonies tomorrow morning at St. Mary Magdalene's church on Brook street, and will continue until Tuesday. Father William Gausepohl, the pastor, will direct the services, assisted by a number of the priests of the city. This will also be an opportunity for making the jubilee.

The Mackin Social Club will entertain with a cotillion dance at their hall next Thursday evening, and all of the ladies attending will be given a handsome Thanksgiving souvenir.

On account of the unfavorable weather conditions and bad roads in Hardin county last Sunday, the confirmation of a large class in St. James church at Elizabethtown on that day by Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue, had to be postponed.

Dr. Bernard Asman returned Monday from Chicago, where he attended the convention of the Clinical Congress of Surgeons of North America, and where he was elected a delegate to the meeting which will be held in England in July, 1914.

There will be a big time at Keokuk tomorrow, when that city Fort Madison and Burlington will have a tri-city initiation.

Representatives of the twenty-one Philadelphia councils have arranged all details for the Academy of Music reception next Tuesday night.

Northside Council, less than nine months old, has a home of its own which need not take second place to any club house in Cincinnati.

Sixty candidates initiated at Hammond, twenty at North Vernon, with twenty at Indianapolis for Monday night, indicates the right spirit in Indiana.

The Central Opera House, the second largest hall in New York City, will be the scene of the reception and entertainment of Vera Cruz Council on Thanksgiving eve.

The Mackin Social Club will entertain with a cotillion dance at their hall next Thursday evening, and all of the ladies attending will be given a handsome Thanksgiving souvenir.

In Berlin it is understood that the German Crown Prince Frederick William and the Crown Princess Cecile are making plans to visit the United States next year. The visit naturally depends on the outcome of the present war.

There will be a continuous performance of two shows every evening and also on Saturday and Sunday afternoons. The classy make-up of the opening bill indicates the high quality the National is prepared to present.

The Ursuline nuns of Brown county, Ohio, have been very fortunate in securing this year six professors for their staff of teachers. They have received two accomplished young ladies—lay teachers—from France, who seem to be fully imbued with the love of their profession, and who, like all lovers of intellectual development, prefer the charms of a secluded spot to the gaiety of city life.

Last week brought to the convent two professed nuns, as teachers, from the famous Ursuline Convent of Innsbruck in the Tyrol. One is a professor of classic music, both vocal and instrumental; the other is a professor in drawing and painting, while both are proficient in German and French, fully competent to teach both. A number of Kentucky girls have been educated in this celebrated convent, which is beginning to be recognized in Europe as one of the first institutions of learning in the United States.

This week Brown county expected to receive two young ladies from Ireland as novices, both graduates of the University of Oxford. All this is the result of the visit of Mother Gabriel and Sister Monica to Europe during the summer months.

The advance sales for the lectures by the lady in America on her own recognition have not been tremendously large. Mrs. Pankhurst is proving a "lame" to the speculators who have engaged her to appear in different cities at so many hundreds per evening.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

Wheeling Hibernians are engaged in an earnest membership campaign.

Next January all the Philadelphia auxiliaries will have joint initiation exercises.

Division 4 meets Monday night, when President Hennessy hopes to see the hall crowded.

An Irish history club has been formed by the seven auxiliaries of the District of Columbia.

Vermont had another Ladies' Auxiliary, a promising division having been instituted at Waterbury.

Chuncoy Olcott gave a benefit Monday night in Milwaukee for the Wisconsin Irish history movement.

A Ladies' Auxiliary has been organized at Englewood, N. J., starting with twenty-five charter members.

Divisions are now voting on the new national insurance plan. If carried it will go into effect next year.

The Baltimore County Board has formulated plans for doubling the membership during the coming six months.

The division just organized at East Akron, Ohio, with fifty members, will soon have a big class initiation.

The Ladies' Auxiliary has presented a handsome statue of St. Bridget to St. Mary's church in Cleveland.

Omaha Hibernians had an enjoyable "smoker" Monday night for those recently repelled into the order there.

Efforts will be made to have the Atlantic battleship fleet in Hampton roads during the national convention at Norfolk.

Division 1 of Portland, Ore., had a grand initiation last Sunday, followed by a banquet for all admitted to membership this year.

The Delaware State and County Boards have donated their annual appropriations to the orphans' fund of the diocese of Washington.

Division 7 of Lynn, Mass., is planning the erection of a central building which can be used for public meetings, dances and societies.

Division 5 of Albany, N. Y., is planning for the construction of a new building to be the headquarters for the Hibernians in that city.

There are now two divisions of the Ladies' Auxiliary at Pueblo, Col., the second being organized this month with a large membership.

Ladies' Auxiliary 3 of Indianapolis honored Rev. Father Brucker with an open meeting and reception before his departure from St. Patrick's church.

New Jersey Hibernians have given unanimous ratification to the declaration of principles of the German-Irish-American Alliance of that State.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Quincy, Ill., held a very successful hazar last week, realizing a nice fund with which to entertain their State convention next August.

Under the auspices of the Ancient Order and the Ladies' Auxiliary there will be two monster demonstrations in Chicago on December 12, which will be Irish night.

Kentucky's Hibernian record should occupy prominent place in the O'Dea history, but this will not be unless our officers furnish the desired information. The same condition exists with several other States.

John O'Dea makes another earnest appeal for material for the forthcoming history of the order. State and county officers should no longer delay forwarding all the information and records they possess.

Washington Hibernians will have before them a season of activity, which will be marked by the unveiling of the Barry monument next spring and the coming to that city of thousands of visitors and delegates en route to the national convention at Norfolk.

SOCIAL CLUB DANCE.
The Young Men's Social Club will give the next of their series of dances on Thursday, Thanksgiving day, at Utopian Hall, and the Reception Committee is as follows: Martin C. Mullaney, Leo P. Reilly, John H. Baldwin, Halpin R. McGrath and Ray S. Owens.

ATLANTIC CITY SELECTED.
The Executive Board of the Catholic Educational Association, which met at the Catholic University at Washington, selected Atlantic City as the place and June 29 to July 3, 1914, as the time for the eleventh annual meeting of the association. The invitation received from Bishop McPaul to hold the meeting in his diocese was gratefully accepted, and on his suggestion Atlantic City was selected as the place.

SECURE HEMLOCK GRANGE.
The property known as Hemlock Grange, east of Dunkirk, N. Y., has been purchased by the Passionist fathers. The site will be used as a preparatory college for the students of the society. A building to accommodate 200 young men will be started next May. The first plans will call for an expenditure of $200,000. The new college will be the principal one of the Eastern province, and the general headquarters will probably be removed from West Hoboken to Dunkirk.

HENDERSON.
An event of wide interest was the marriage at Henderson on Wednesday morning at Holy Name church of Miss Blanche Halsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Halsey, to Leo Manion. Miss Halsey won the prize offered by a local paper a few years ago as the most popular young lady in the city and was given a European trip. She graduated from Nazareth. Patrick Quigley, a porter engaged at Baginbun, lost his life as the result of an accident. While engaged in shunting operations he was knocked down by a goods wagon, which passed over his body, and in a few hours he succumbed to his injuries.

DISTURBING

Effects of Labor Leader Larkin's Imprisonment and Release.

Home Rule Hopes Rise and Fall With the Election Results.

Carson's Campaign in Scotland Has Left the Electorate Untouched.

TORIES EAGER FOR COMPROMISE

From London this week Hon. T. P. O'Connor, M. P., cables that the imprisonment and release of James Larkin, leader of the Dublin strikers, has had a disturbing effect, increasing the Socialist and Labor vote and reducing Liberal majorities.

Meantime the ORKY of party speeches continues unabated. The by-elections, too, still continue to absorb public attention, and party hopes rise and fall with the alternating success or failure of party candidates.

The reduction of the Liberal majority in Linnithgow, besides being due to many local causes as well as to Larkin's imprisonment, was mainly accounted for by the fact that the Liberal candidate was a stranger and the Tory candidate a native of the constituency.

Sir Edward Carson's campaign in Scotland has left the electorate untouched, and my counter campaign and the Irish speakers has resulted in meetings of unparalleled size.

The prospects of home rule negotiations rise and fall with the election results. Immediately after Reading and Linnithgow the rank and file of the Tories proclaimed an end to all negotiation, but this temporary phase is passing away with the victory at Kelghley and with the certainty that there is no such tidal wave against the Government as would weaken the Liberals' inflexible determination not to leave office or dissolve Parliament until home rule is passed into law.

THE TRUE FRIEND OF LABOR

To the Most Rev. John Lancaster Spalding the Kentucky Irish American extends its heartfelt congratulations, with the prayerful hope that he may be spared to celebrate his diamond jubilee before being called to answer the summons that awaits all mankind.

Archbishop Spalding was born in Lebanon, this State, on June 2, 1846, of a family descended from the Lancasters, Spaldings, Abells and Hamiltons, who came to this country with Lord Baltimore.

Only a few months after his ordination Father Spalding was chosen by Archbishop Blanchet, of Oregon, as his theologian at the Second Plenary Council of Baltimore, and was one of the select preachers before that august body, and all this when but twenty-six years of age.

In 1902 the Archbishop was appointed by his friend, Theodore Roosevelt, as a member of the board of arbitrators of the anthracite coal strike, when he proved the true friend of labor and won the confidence of the American public, standing for equal justice for employer and employee.
